Additional Pieces

65 products

Designed for rooms that work beautifully.

Aurelia Patio approaches furniture as part of the architecture of everyday life: the chair that defines a table, the sofa that slows a terrace, the stool that gathers people at a counter, the base that lets a public room keep moving.

This general catalog is organized by collection families so each product can be understood in context: its variants, its role, and the type of environment it naturally supports.

The visual system is intentionally calm. Product images remain clear, notes are short, and each section gives enough atmosphere without hiding the object.

FINISHES

Materials selected to support real use.

For final specification, finish cards and material samples should be reviewed in person, since printed and screen colours may differ from actual materials.

Build the room, then choose the piece.

Use this catalog as a working map: start with the setting, define the rhythm of use, then select the collection family that gives the room its right scale, comfort, and visual weight.
